To whom it may concern:

This is to certify that I have worked with Carrie Davis on projects relating to radio marketing and radiothons and have found her work to be always exceptional.

Ms. Davis always took the initiative to stay on top, and even ahead of the work she was assigned, and I always found her thinking ahead for ensuring that we are on track to achieve common goals. Being organized is foundational to being ahead of the game and this comes to her naturally.

Working in a cross-cultural and international environment, Ms. Davis was always patient yet persuasive to ensure we were on track to achieve our common goals while simultaneously managing different facets of the project.

Ms. Davis knows how to operate independently and when needed also knows how to be a team player. She has been a delight to work with and I have certainly enjoyed working with her.
